

11 DEAD, 15 HURT IN ALLENTOWN HOTEL FIRE

OLD LAFAYETTE
HOTEL IS FIRE
SWEEPED TODAY

MANY OF THE GUESTS TRAPPED,
HANG FROM WINDOW
LEDGES

ROOF COLLAPSED, SAGGING ON-
TO THE 5TH AND 4TH
FLOORS

Allentown, Pa., Jan. 23.—With three more victims recovered from the upper floor ruins of the Lafayette hotel this afternoon the death list from the fire which destroyed the structure early today now stands at eleven. Four men still remain unidentified in undertakers' morgues, while the fifth body, that of a woman, has been identified as that of Mrs. Ida Hanson, Schenksville, Pa. The woman was first thought to be that of Mrs. C. Deamond of Philadelphia. The body of James M. Wells of Allentown was the only one of the three taken from the building this afternoon to be identified. Several other victims, it was feared, were still in the ruins.

Allentown, Pa., Jan. 23.—(UP)—Nine persons are dead, 15 injured and several missing as a result of a fire which swept the Lafayette hotel here early today.

Although the hostelry can accommodate 200 guests, only 45 were believed to be in the hotel when the fire occurred.

The identified are:
Anna Novanah, 22, waitress.
John Shanahan, 42, Allentown.
Many of the guests trapped in the 100-year-old structure by the flames, hung from window ledges clad only in night clothes until firemen were able to put up ladders to rescue them. The temperature when the fire broke out was 10 above zero. All the dead were trapped in their rooms, according to firemen, and were suffocated before they could be rescued.

Half an hour after firemen arrived the roof collapsed, sagging onto the fifth and fourth floors. Firemen expressed belief that the bodies of many of the missing would be found on those floors.

Of the seven dead bodies unidentified, one is believed to be that of James McKeever, an employee of the Allentown Morning Call, who lived at the hotel.

Three of the injured, physicians in the Allentown hospital said, may die.

Following the discovery of Miss Novanah's body on the third floor, a fireman told of liberating her from her room. When he attempted to lead her to safety she broke away from him and disappeared down a corridor toward the rear of the hotel, he said.

Four of the bodies of the dead have been identified.

Three were guests and the fourth, Miss Anna Novanah, was an employee of the hostelry.

SECOND TRIAL OF FARMER CHARGED
KILLING HIRED MAN

Fairbault, Minn., Jan. 23.—(UP)—The second trial of Harry Hrabic, farmer living near here, on a charge of murdering his hired man was postponed today until Feb. 23. It was to have started Monday but a delay was granted to allow time for Mrs. Hrabic to recover from illness.

The jury that first heard Hrabic's case disagreed and a new trial was ordered.

The hired man was beaten to death with a crow bar and Hrabic admitted the slaying. He pleaded not guilty when brought to trial, however, basing his defense on alleged misconduct and threats of the man he killed.

They are accused of implication in the robbery of the grocery store and the shooting of Schmidt following alleged confessions of participation in numerous twin cities holdups.

Schmidt is still in critical condition, a bullet wound piercing his lung just above the heart.

RAIL MERGER
IN THE WEST
IS UNDER WAY

ONE ROAD WITH MILEAGE OF
13,585 WOULD BE EFFECTED

MATTER STILL TO BE SUBMIT-
TED TO I. C. C. FOR ITS APPROVAL

New York, Jan. 23.—(UP)—One of the most important rail mergers since the government in a semi-official way indicated its approval of the consolidation of smaller roads with the larger ones, is under way in the middle and southwest.

One road, with assets of $875,000,000 and a mileage of 13,585—the longest road in the country—would grow out of the proposed merger of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad with the St. Louis, San Francisco Railway Co., which approached a step nearer completion with the announcement that the 'Frisco directors had purchased a substantial interest in the Rock Island road.

The matter is to be submitted to the I. C. C. for its approval soon after the meeting of the directors of the Rock Island scheduled for Wednesday, it was learned today.

The announcement of the 'Frisco purchase came as a surprise in financial circles here where it was believed the Rock Island was pledged to the Southern Pacific, which, with a mileage of 12,447, will be the most active competitor of the new road.

Dairymen agreed that conditions have generally improved for the livestock producer.

STRAIGHT LINE
HIGHWAY PLANNED FOR ILLINOIS

Chicago, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Plans for a highway that will carry both passenger car traffic and truck, on a straight line from Danville, Ill., and Kankakee on the south to Kenosha and Green Bay, Wis., on the north were under way today following a meeting of road builders representing the government, the states of Illinois and Wisconsin and the Chicago district.

The highway will serve 32 cities and towns connecting on the south with the Dixie highway and continuing north through Chicago and Evanston, Wilmette, Winnetka, Kenilworth and Glenview village where it will enter Green Bay road.

In a speech delivered to the gathering James T. Voshell, United States district highway commissioner for the five middle west states, declared that 44 feet pavements are not wide enough. The regional committee will work out a standard pavement for the Chicago zone.

SARAZEN CANNOT

London, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Abel Mitchell, British golf pro refused to accept the provisional acceptance by Gene Sarazen, American professional, of the challenge he issued for a 72 hole match for $2,500. Sarazen suggested that 36 holes be played in the United States, but Mitchell insisted that the entire 72 holes be played in this country.

CARDINAL MERCIER,
BRAVE PRELATE, IS CALLED TO MAKER

DIED TODAY AFTER WEEK'S ILL-
NESS FOLLOWING STOMACH
OPERATION

COURAGEOUS IN HIS LAST DAYS,
HE PASSED ON PEACE-FULLY

Brussels, Jan. 23.—Cardinal Mercier, Belgium's brave prelate, died here today at 3 P. M. after several weeks' illness following a stomach operation.

Courageous in his last days, the cardinal passed on peacefully. During the night the cardinal had rallied slightly after physicians had announced he probably would not last the night out.

Death came to the cardinal in his 75th year and a nation that revered him for his war time defiance of the German invaders went into mourning.

The cardinal had realized for some days that the end was near. His physicians counseled him against receiving visits and against complicating his condition with thoughts of church work to which he had devoted a rich life time. But the cardinal felt that his last hours should be marked by further deeds of good.

So earlier in the week he insisted on considering pending church business; on receiving Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth and only Thursday on greeting Crown Prince Leopold, back from a 13 months' visit in the Congo. To the Crown Prince, kneeling beside his bed, the dying prelate extended his blessing.

His illness had been followed with genuine sorrow through the little kingdom. Masses were said in all churches for his recovery and school children everywhere offered their prayers for the splendid man who had told his people in the war days that they owed no obedience to the iron regime of the German occupying masters.

During the forenoon oxygen had been administered to the cardinal to relieve his difficult breathing. This reacted only briefly, however, and he sank constantly until 3 P. M. when death came to him peacefully.

In an ante room of his death chamber waited church dignitaries. He had already received the last sacraments of the church he so faithfully served. Prayers were said yesterday afternoon, the cardinal joining feebly while old servants of the household wept, for they, like him, knew that it was only a matter of hours before he died.

For an hour before death the cardinal was in a deep coma, his eyes closed as though death already had come.

The cardinal will be buried in the Archdiocesan church of Saint Rombaut in Mechlin, seat of the cardinal primate of Belgium.

OBJECT TO PRESENCE OF TOMCAT IN THE COURT ROOM

St. Paul, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Tiger, municipal cat, licked a disgruntled paw and cast about for a comfortable place to snooze today, an outcast from his usual couch beside Judge Conrad Olson's bench.

Attorneys defending Morris Thompson, janitor, and J. Rahilly, manager of an apartment here, objected to Tiger's presence in the courtroom where the two men are on trial for cremating a live cat.

Witnesses testified the two defendants have confessed throwing a live cat into a furnace to rid their apartment of the feline prowler. Thompson said he burned the cat at Rahilly's order. Rahilly denied knowledge of the deed.

PRESIDENT'S FATHER IS GROWING WEAKER

Plymouth, Vt., Jan. 23.—(UP)—Following a visit to the home of Col. John C. Coolidge today, Dr. Albert M. Cram of Bridgewater, his physician, told the United Press the president's father had lost considerable strength and was gradually growing weaker.

Dr. Cram thought, however, there was no immediate danger. The colonel's weakened condition, he said, was due to some extent to a loss of appetite.

Col. Coolidge has suffered no recurrence of "heart block" according to Dr. Cram on his disconcerting some sensations in his paralyzed limbs, but because of his waning strength, his general condition is not considered so good as it was two weeks ago.

Using his newly installed telephone, the colonel talked for several minutes last night with the president in Washington.

RUSSIA SENDS SHARP NOTE TO CHINESE EXECUTIVE

Moscow, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Russian Foreign Minister Tchitcherin today sent a note to Tuan Chihui, Chinese chief executive, requesting the release of Russian General Manager Ivanoff of the Chinese Eastern railway, arrested with three Russian directors at Harbin. The release he requested should be within three days while order must be restored on the Chinese Eastern railway and the Russo-Chinese treaty thereon fulfilled. Otherwise, he suggested the Soviet union should be permitted to use its own forces to secure the fulfillment and to protect mutual interests.

Peking, Jan. 23.—(UP)—The foreign office today telegraphed Chang Tso Lin ordering the immediate release of Ivanoff.

Peking, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Soviet Envoy Karakhan today demanded that General Chang Tso Lin, the Manchurian chieftain, immediately release General Manager Ivanoff of the Chinese Eastern railway, who with three Russian directors of the line were arrested by Chang troops at Harbin.

Harbin reports claimed that the American consul there by declining to co-operate, blocked the Japanese consul's effort to persuade the entire consular corps to compel Ivanoff to operate trains.

3 "LIGHTS OF LOVE" OF DURKIN
TO FACE KILLER

CHICAGO SHEIK MAY FIND HARD
GOING WHEN COURT
STARTS

BETTY WERNER, THE "WOMAN
SCORNEO," WILL TELL ALL
SHE KNOWS

Chicago, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Feeling that her son, Martin Durkin, has attained national fame, Mrs. Hattie Durkin is aided by her daughter and several nieces.

The members of the syndicate have divided the local field, each one to devote particular attention to one newspaper. Durkin is not to give interviews unless he is given credentials from some member of the syndicate.

Mrs. Durkin plans to write a history of her son's life, and supplement this with daily stories of the case.

Chicago, Jan. 23.—(UP)—At least three of Martin Durkin's "lights of love" will be arrayed against him when he goes to trial for murder, according to the plans of the prosecution today. Betty Werner, "the woman scorned," is ready to tell all she knows, State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe announced. Betty, abandoned by Durkin for Irma Sullivan, the 18-year-old country girl, has made a statement to the prosecutor, and Crowe said he was satisfied Betty's tale would help send the killer to the gallows.

Crowe said he would ask Sadia Stroka, Durkin's first wife, and Ruth Fiebeck Durkin, Durkin's second wife, to join Betty in aiding the state. Durkin is divorced from Sadie, but is not divorced from Ruth, Crowe said.

The marriage to Irma is illegal in view of the failure to divorce Ruth, Crowe holds. If the latest marriage can be annulled, Crowe will try to put Irma on the stand.

Durkin was allowed to see Irma for one hour yesterday. For want of a better place they were given the death cell. Irma reiterated her determination to "stick." She said she regarded herself as his wife despite the failure to divorce Ruth.

Durkin will be arraigned Jan. 29. Durkin is charged with killing Edward Shanahan, government agent, and Police Sergeant Harry Gray. Crowe has affidavits showing that Durkin knew Shanahan was a federal agent, it is understood. Durkin has held he thought Shanahan was a holdup man bent on robbing him.

BITTERNESS OF WARRING FAC-TIONS ON WORLD COURT ARE

House:

Memorial from Tennessee legislature asks congress to relinquish title to land in Tennessee to be sold for school purposes.

Washington, Jan. 23.—The world court may be shunted aside in the senate today for a vote about Feb. 13 and the tax bill taken up to make reductions for March 15 payments on 1925 incomes.

The bitterness of the warring factions over the court were tentatively smoothed over and there was a prospect that a unanimous consent agreement might be adopted to carry out the accepted plan of both republican and democratic leaders. If the irreconcilables who have been filibustering, can be made to forget the fact that a cloture has been invoked upon them they may consent to the arrangement but one dissenting voice can prevent its adoption.

Sen. Bleasie, South Carolina, democrat, who held up the agreement yesterday, indicated that he would offer no objections.

If the agreement is worked out it will only be because both sides are afraid of the cloture and its consequences. There are few senators who have been in the senate very long who have not filibustered against what they considered an iniquitous piece of legislation. It has long been an unwritten gentlemen's agreement of the senate that the cloture rule should not be invoked.

Southern democrats fear it will be thrown back upon them when the filibuster against the Hays anti-lynching bill which has long commanded a majority but which has never yet been brought to a vote.

Irreconcilables threaten to desert the southerners the next time legislation against their states comes up if they invoke this cloture.

The cloture was introduced late yesterday signed by 24 republicans and 24 democrats. If no agreement is reached by unanimous consent today for limit on debate beginning Feb. 10 a vote will become automatically upon the cloture at the opening of the session Monday. If it is adopted by two-thirds majority no senator thereafter can speak longer than one hour.

Sen. Leavitt, republican, Wisconsin, leader of the world courters, called at the White House early today and assured the president that votes were available to put the project over, despite all the obstacles and delays it has encountered.

127 Pound Timber Wolf

Rhineland, Wis.—Guy Morrill presented yesterday at the county clerk's office for bounty, the largest timber wolf killed in this vicinity this year. The animal weighed 127 pounds.

The present proposal for American adherence.

The 23-year-old newspaper editor who was given his seat only a few days ago by a narrow vote, declared the court would bring the United States little glory, much embarrassment and great danger. His resolution stated that whereas the question is of such vital importance to the American people, the senate has no moral right to pass upon it either negatively or affirmatively, "until the voice of the American people shall have been heard, and heard distinctly above the influence of the new attendance propaganda."

NEW SERIES OF RESERVATIONS

Washington, Jan. 23.—A new series of reservations to American adherence to the world court was proposed in the senate today by Sen. Swanson, author of the resolution now being considered which embodied only the Harding-Hughes-Coolidge reservations.

Swanson's new limitations were proposed in the form of a complete sub resolution. They were designed to protect the country from any involvement in activities of the court which have been criticized during the debate.

The five reservations are:
1. The United States shall not assume any legal relations to the League of Nations or any obligations of the Versailles treaty.

2. The United States shall participate in the court upon an equality with all other states in all proceedings of either the council of the League or the assembly of the League or election of judges of the court.

3. Appropriation will be made by this country for a fair share of the expenses of the court.

4. The United States may withdraw from the court at any time and the statute and protocol of the court cannot be amended without this country's consent.

5. All advisory opinions of the court must be given publicly after a public hearing and the court will not be permitted to render any decision upon matters affecting the United States without the consent of the United States.

$600,000 RIVER
NAVIGATION
FLEET PLANNED

CONTRACT SIGNED BY SECRE-TARY OF WAR WITH UPPER MISSISSIPPI BARGE CO.

BARGES AND BOATS TO OPERATE
BETWEEN ST. PAUL AND
ST. LOUIS

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 23.—(UP)—The Inland Waterway Corporation today began actual work of getting under way with the work of building a $600,000 river navigation fleet.

The contract signed by Secretary of War Davis late yesterday with the Upper Mississippi Barge Company calls for the construction of more than a half million dollars worth of barges and boats for operation between St. Paul and St. Louis.

The contract further provides that the cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis shall construct terminal facilities and that the company has the option of selling within two or five years to the government owned interest and Waterways Corporation the boats at the original price.

Theodore Brent, manager of the new corporation, will leave soon with a party of Twin City officials for the south to study river terminals before new terminals are built here.

The city council here will consider plans for the erection of a water rail terminal with switching facilities to all lines.

Minneapolis has begun consideration of a $250,000 terminal which includes a 900 foot dock.

Barges and boats valued at $300,000 will be brought up from the south and put in operation as soon as the ice breaks up in the spring.

COLDEST WAVE
MOVED SOUTHWARD

ALSO TRAVELED TO THE EAST-ERN SEABOARD
TODAY

St. Paul, Jan. 23.—(UP)—The year's coldest wave moved south and east today as the northwest reported rising temperatures. The thermometer registered four below zero here today.

Chicago, Jan. 23.—The sub zero weather of the past 16 hours lifted today and swept eastward after giving the middle west a final taste of bitter cold. Thermometers in and around Chicago during the night registered from zero to six below.

Two deaths were ascribed to the cold here.

Rising temperatures were predicted for today and tomorrow.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 23.—One man was frozen to death and much suffering was experienced by Milwaukee's poor as the result of the sub-zero temperature during the past two days.

While the mercury rose to about 10 degrees above yesterday afternoon, it started dropping again at nightfall and was around the zero mark again early today. W. M. Labovich in charge of the local weather bureau predicts rising temperatures during the day.

The body of Albert Spott, 62, was found frozen in the ice along the lake shore. It is believed Spott fell while walking along the shore and in some manner got into the water where he froze to death.

APPEAL FROM JURY VERDICT IN CRIMINAL CASE

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 23.—(UP)—The state supreme court today received an appeal from a jury verdict acquitting Pasquale Burdo, Minot, of a bootlegging charge.

The trial judge in the case advised the jury to find the defendant not guilty on the ground that the two prohibition officers who testified they bought liquor from him were co-conspirators. Conviction, the opinion stated, could not be effected on their unsubstantiated evidence.

Appeals by the state from jury verdicts in criminal cases are unusual. In this case, the state appeals to the supreme court to reverse decision of the Ward county court and order retrial for Burdo.

The decision is considered important to the future of prohibition enforcement in the state.

Washington, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Rep. John E. Raker, California, died at his home here last night. He had been ill since five weeks ago when he was operated on for stomach abscess.

There were two wrecks after the dance at Sylvan Saturday night, between that place and Gull River. A Hupmobile ran off the road by Irwin Robinson's home, knocking his mail box clear off the post and throwing it up on the high bank. The car then ran into an oak tree, smashing the car all to pieces and breaking the driver's collar bone. Another car ran off the grade into Mr. Sliter's field. Someone was injured but we have not heard who. Wonder if the moonlight wasn't too strong?—Pillager Herald.

Cholera Follows Drought

Recent droughts in the interior of China have brought epidemics of cholera, according to information received here. A hundred deaths a day for almost a week are reported from Changsha, Hunan province, and the outbreak shows no sign of diminishing. From Zohcheo district of Hunan 1,500 deaths have been reported, with fatalities recorded in Siantan and Changchehsien. The Chinese Red Cross in those areas is doing what it can to relieve the situation, but the task is almost insurmountable. With the epidemic exists a state of dire famine and thousands are suffering. Crowds of refugees are flocking to the towns, carrying their bundles and belongings. As fast as they reach the refugees the officials pack them on the cars—open trucks—and send them to Shanghai and other ports.

First "Indian Rubber"

Soon after the elastic material which is otherwise called caoutchouc, became known in civilized countries it was noticed that the material possessed the power of removing lead pencil marks from paper when rubbed over them. From its first known production and use having been by Indian tribes of South America, it came into commerce as "Indian rubber."

Mosquito Story Told

by Truthful Kansan

A contributor from Kansas writes gratefully to thank us for the story on our miscellany page that described the kidnapping of one of our contributors in a steam boiler by mosquitoes. It explains something, he writes, that has always been a mystery to me. Some time ago I had occasion to purchase a boiler of a certain type. Attracted by the advertisement of an eastern firm, I ordered one from them. When it arrived I found attached to it by the bill, which was thrust through a hole in the boiler and clinched, a large mosquito, apparently dead. When I released it, however, I found that it was not dead but only weak and exhausted from hunger. In fact, the poor thing was nothing but skin and bones. I ministered to its needs and turned it into my pigeon fly, intending to keep it for a curiosity—here in Kansas we seldom see mosquitoes larger than a crow. The mosquito had a number of severe bruises, acquired in shipping, on its body. On these I poured soothing liniment. The next morning, being too busy to attend to it myself, I sent my little boy out to put more liniment on the mosquito. He made a mistake and used Doctor Soakum's hair restorer instead of liniment. In the course of a few days the mosquito was covered with fine, soft, curly hair. Last week I sheared thirty pounds of high-grade wool from it. You may not believe this. I wouldn't believe it myself if anyone else was telling it. And I can't prove it because the mosquito is dead. It got loose yesterday and swallowed a Missouri mule that had strayed across the state line. The mule kicked as he went down its throat, and broke its neck.—Youth's Companion.

TREES TALLER THAN A 14-STORY BUILDING

The accompanying illustration shows Douglas fir trees towering some seventy feet above the R. A. Long Building, Kansas City, Mo. No, they don't grow such trees in Kansas City, but they do grow in the forests of the Pacific Northwest. The "composite" picture was prepared by The Long-Bell Lumber Company to give a realistic comparison of the trees as they grow in the company's timber holdings near Longview, Washington. The building, in which are the general offices of the lumber company has fourteen floors and is 205 feet high.

Douglas fir comprises about 25 per cent of the present stand of merchantable timber in the United States and about 75 per cent of the commercial woods of the Pacific Northwest.

Straight and tall, straight-grained, resilient, tough and durable, and with an unusually large percentage of heart wood, it is an ideal wood for practically all building and structural purposes. Douglas fir trees are excellent in size only by the redwoods of California. The average trees in the Long-Bell holdings are about 250 feet high, and five feet in diameter. However, many trees reach heights of 300 feet and more and diameters of from ten to even fifteen feet.

The density of the stand in the Long-Bell holdings is said to be remarkable. The trees grow close together and as much as 150,000 board feet may be found on a single acre or 50,000 board feet—enough lumber to build three good sized frame bungalows—in an area but thirty feet square.

Cross-Word Carry

By DOROTHY DOUGLAS

(Copyright.)

CARRY had been going about for some time now with a far-away expression in her eyes and the tiniest of puckers between her brows.

Ted Conrad, the young man who had been courting her during the last year, didn't like it at all. He realized of late that, during his recitals of some of his most entertaining exploits on the football field, Carry's eyes drifted into that remote distance.

Naturally Ted was annoyed. Carry was not giving him her undivided attention. It was not encouraging.

If Ted had been less obtuse he would have known that Carry was bored and had taken, like the rest of the world, to cross-word puzzles. The far-away look meant that Carry was seeking an elusive word for polecat with an m and a u in the center.

But Ted would have been as much bored to work out a cross-word puzzle as Carry would have been to have to sit on a cold bench and watch Ted disporting himself on the football field.

As a matter of fact the big athlete and the dainty Carry were not particularly suited to one another. They had drifted into a lover-like attitude during the summer when there had been swimming, boating, dancing and picnicking to entertain them.

She had not even told Ted that she was working in the $5,000 competition. Carry always had a bit of luck in such cases—perhaps her optimism helped more than a trifle.

Carry had no hesitation about asking for information when she wanted it, and, of course, it was always forthcoming, especially if the wise one were masculine and Carry happened to look up at him with her big violet eyes with their most pleading expression.

She had so far conquered the telegraph clerk in the post office, whither she went for a code in three letters; a Greek professor whom she inveigled into telling her all the prehistoric animals of ancient Greece; the young curate who told her all the various naives of Ecclesiastical nature; and she had made a perfect slave of the young man in charge of the reference department of the local library.

Carry was on her way there on a bright and sunny morning in November to get the no doubt atrociously long and unpronounceable horticulturist's name for an innocent little garden flower.

There was more than a nip of frost in the air and Carry's cheeks were a healthy scarlet. She was a wee bit cold, otherwise she might have continued her walk to the library and the young swain therein. As it was, she decided to go into the long row of hothouses that sheltered the glory of the flower world in that part of the country. Carry loved flowers.

Carry paused on the threshold in sheer delight. The hot fragrance of the flowers together with their glorious colors gave her the sensation of having stepped from a cold silent world into one of life and warmth and love. She inhaled the warm odors deep into her lungs and was enjoying herself to the utmost when she realized that a young man had entered the greenhouse and was waiting her pleasure.

Carry put the violet eyes into, use and the young man of course realized that someone, as lovely as the flowers was questioning him.

"Oh, I say," he laughed genially, "are you working on those sticklers, too? I have lost weight and three nights' good sleep on one word."

Carry burst out laughing and Braden stopped to listen. "Which one is it? Perhaps I have found it," she questioned.

"We will have to share that $5,000 if we help each other," laughingly replied Braden. He drew from his pocket the familiar cross-word puzzle and pointed out to Carry's amused eyes the simplest word of the lot. "There," he said, "that word, 'Bingled'—I never heard such a word, and it's not in any dictionary, synonym book nor any other book that I can find. Its cue, as you know, is 'most modern girls have it.'"

"Bingled is a perfectly good word," Carry exploded into merriment. "It is a cross between a shingle and a bob." She pulled off her hat and showed the astonished young man what a bingle was, and he had to admit to himself that it was something very lovely in this particular instance.

"And now for the flower. It is so simple to me that I can't think of anyone not getting it." And with that he wrote down a conglomeration of letters that made Carry gasp. It fitted in, of course.

"I wouldn't even attempt to pronounce it," she laughed. "It is very good of you to help me."

When the violet eyes lifted again to Braden's face he hoped with all his heart that there would be at least one or two more horticultural names to bring this young lady to his greenhouse.

Carry hoped the same. As a matter of fact, while she was thinking about it, the young man was cutting, with a tenderness that proclaimed the flower lover, a few exquisite buds and a moment later was putting them into her eager hands.

"We will split that $5,000," he said, "if I get it. Don't you think we should work out the next puzzle together?"

"It certainly is easier," Carry softly admitted.

Communists and Cake

Communist newspapers comment humorously on the predicament of an enthusiastic member of the party. This Communist's wife started to bake the usual cake for a church holiday. He explained that as he did not observe such days a cake was unnecessary. The wife insisted, and he finally agreed that the cake be baked, but specified that it be different in shape from the ordinary. The wife replied that a cake of any other shape would be foolish and began to cry. The Communist became angry, declared that he was the head of the family and forbade his wife to bake the cake. Then he recalled that in a Communist family husband and wife are equal, and that he could not give orders. So, ask some Communist writers, what can a loyal Communist do if he wants peace at home, especially if he likes cake?

Such interest is natural, for The New-Day Jewett is a most unusual new car. It is truly a new-day automobile—designed for today's motoring needs and admirably fitted to meet them.

The journeys undertaken by some birds are really marvelous. The tiny goldcrest—the smallest European bird—weighing but a dram, and some other avian Lilliputians cross the waters of the North sea on dark November nights, while some species of sandpipers migrate from islands well within the Arctic circle to New Zealand and Cape Horn. These wonderful aerial feats are undertaken by birds barely three months old. The Arctic tern, a common sea swallow, flies almost from pole to pole twice a year.—London Discovery.

STATE FAIR IS A GREAT INSTITUTION

OUR Minnesota State Fair is a great institution and its value was recorded in the speech made by Herman Roe, Northfield, at the sixty-seventh annual meeting of the Minnesota State Agricultural society. As president of the fair association he had the opportunity to study its workings and that close experience reinforced his earlier impressions when he first appeared as an exhibitor or board member or gave it publicity in his newspaper.

He said in part: "It would be difficult to measure the contribution to the development and progress of the state made by this society during the 67 years that it has been functioning. The statistics which reveal the wonderful strides Minnesota has made in population and in wealth during this period, which covers only the span of the average human life, are an index to that contribution. It is a record of service and of achievement of which we are justly proud. Confronted with that record, we of this generation are to devote all of our energies to continue the good work and, if possible, to improve and build a 'more stately mansion' on the solid foundations bequeathed to us by our predecessors."

"As a recent chronicler of Minnesota's history aptly expressed it: 'The modern state fair is a celebration, a festival, a vacation, a recreation. We have outgrown many of the restraints and dogmas that may have been useful in earlier days. We demand more freedom, more joy, more life, than our predecessors even dared to seek. Our attitude toward life is not their attitude; it is less austere, less serious. We believe more firmly even than they believed in useful education; we respect as much as they respected productive, honest work; but we demand a longer and higher reach of the spirit, a wider outlook, a more subtle incentive to thought and action. It is impossible for us to be satisfied with their program, excellent as it was for its day. A higher average intelligence is to be interested. A richer social life is to be reached. Adults are to be entertained and cheered; young men and young women are to be inspired, directed and enthused; children are to be delighted, charmed and developed. Urban people are to be attracted and challenged to think; farmers are to be appealed to and dealt with as citizens with aspirations and ambitions that do not lie entirely within their own fences.'"

THE DURKIN CASE

CHARGED with several murders, Martin Durkin, Chicago's sheik slayer rests serenely confident, as he hopes the testimony of his "women folks" will save him from the gallows.

Durkin's own mother said her boy only stole cars that had been insured and only shot when he had to. Durkin, it is claimed, had three marriage adventures, as you may term them. He was divorced from one, had an affair of the heart with another plus a child, it is claimed, and then, so the state alleges, illegally married another.

The usual flood of mash notes is being showered on him, plus flowers and dainties and the crowd of flappers interested in Durkin is as dense as blackbirds in a corn field.

States Attorney Crowe will confer a favor on the world at large if he hurries up his prosecution and gives Durkin trial soon. In the meantime, of course, we shall be treated to newspaper discussions on Durkin's mentality, his probable trend to insanity, etc., etc.

ABOUT ANY COMMUNITY

THE community which does not advance, retrogrades. The unused car or piece of machinery accumulates dust and later rust.

There is no such thing as maintaining a status quo in community affairs. If you continue slipping, well everybody knows where the community will land. If no industries are added, if no farming section is added as a trade center, if nothing is done to increase such trade affiliations, then any community is not maintaining its position. It is "losing out."

Old people lose their vision, in more ways than one. They see little of a rosy future, just as do many staid old communities. To have vision, one must have a program, idealistic, practical or otherwise. At least set some mark and aim for it. Better to shoot high and miss the target altogether than to confess to such a baby spirit as not to be able to even string a bow.

COUNTY AGENT IS APPRECIATED

"SEVERAL years ago the county commissioners of Morrison county decided to cut down expenses and one of the items eliminated was the county agent," says the Wadena Pioneer Journal.

"After doing without a county agent for a year or two they have decided that it was not economy to do so. They have employed a very good man to act in that capacity during the coming year and he is to be paid $2,500 per annum, and nine cents per mile traveling expenses. The Pioneer Journal can think of no expenditure that will bring greater returns on the investment than the employment of a good county agent, and Wadena county is particularly fortunate in that respect."

THE tri-county bridge over the Crow Wing river will soon be built. After litigation at Brainerd where Judge W. S. McClenahan advised the people from the counties of Wadena, Cass and Todd that he was without jurisdiction and further suggested that they settle their grievances, an agreement was at length arrived at wherein each of the three counties named as well as Becker township and Staples village make a contribution, the sum total amount to $26,400, which ought to be enough to erect a most substantial bridge at the location agreed upon.

ILL considered remarks are sometimes made at trials and in public proceedings and after everybody has heard them, they are ordered stricken from the record. For instance at the hearing of Magnus Johnson's charges against Senators Schall, the latter got so excited that he claimed something or other was a "damned lie." The remark was published and later stricken from the records.

Odd obituary sent out by United Press closed with words that Rep. John E. Raker, California, was "62 years old and a Democrat." Probably if he had lived a few years longer, he would have seen the error of his ways and would have changed his party affiliation to Republican or something else.

DR. ROY SMITH'S SATURDAY NIGHT TALKS

By the REV. ROY L. SMITH, D. D.
Pastor Simpson M. E. Church, Minneapolis

PROTECTING THE VIOCIUS FROM THE VIRTUOUS

The modern machinery of the law seems to be having the effect of protecting the vicious from the virtuous.

The high-minded citizens of a community will organize, spend their time and money, and elect superior representatives to the state and national legislatures. These representatives will pass wise and just laws. Then the public settles back with the comfortable assurance that it is protected.

But the criminal lawyer is abroad in the land and it is his function to discover technicalities and loop-holes in the law by which the offenders can escape justice.

Meanwhile, the criminal sits in jail (or is released on bail) and eats the candy and takes delight in the cut flowers that have been poured into his cell by a mawkish and sentimental public whose sympathies have been stirred by the story of a wife and baby at home.

Delays, postponements, stays of sentence, paroles, appeals, new trials and a hundred other expedients are raised to prevent him from serving a sentence. In the meantime the public loses interest, witnesses disappear and the office of the prosecuting attorney is crowded with cases.

A year or two of this sort of thing, perhaps a few short months in jail at light labor, and the criminal is free again, thankful for a clever lawyer, a sentimental public with a short memory and a pliable system of justice.

Allied with the criminal lawyer is the psychiatrist who solemnly assures us that the criminal played with teddy bears as a child, that his beard did not develop until six months later than normal, and that therefore he is, after all, not to blame for his criminal tendencies but is a victim of arrested development.

The sentimental social enthusiast cries out for "a chance to reform the criminal by putting him into a new and healthful environment."

All the time a virtuous public is waiting for justice and protection and getting it not.

The public has a stake in every criminal trial—a stake that cannot be ignored no matter what may be the claims of the criminal on mercy. The virtuous have a right to expect protection from the vicious. But the way our system is now working we seem to be protecting the vicious from the virtuous.

The first meeting of this troop, which will be No. 4, will be held at the court house basement on Tuesday, Jan. 26th. It is expected that this troop will be one of our crack organizations so any boy wishing to get into a live group will do well to be at this organization meeting and be a charter member of troop No. 4.

"Black Death"

That name was given to a great epidemic of plague which occurred in Europe in the fourteenth century and destroyed one-fourth of the entire population. Bubonic plague rarely occurs in America. A hemorrhagic rash, the "plague spots" or "tokens" accounts for the name of "black death." The cause of plague is a bacillus, of which rats are carriers.

The high-wave reception range of the Grebe dial (B)—from 550 down to 240 meters—equals the practical tuning range of the usual receiver. The low-wave range of the Grebe dial (A) provides additional reception down to 150 meters.

You Don't Need Two Radio Receivers

OVER 100 existing stations, with worth-while programs, are beyond the reach of the average receiver because it cannot tune below 240 meters.

Thus, to get both high and low-wave stations requires two receivers—unless you own a Synchrophase. Due to its Low-Wave Extension Circuits—exclusively Grebe—it will receive all stations from 550 down to 150 meters. One dial covers this complete range.

Ask for a demonstration of this and the other recent Grebe developments; then compare.

Papaya Is Delicious
One of the most delicious of tropical fruits is the papaya, or tree melon. The tree on which it grows resembles a small palm, its slender trunk surmounted by a cluster of large leaves below which clings the conspicuous melon-like fruit. When ripe the fruit is yellow, is often 20 inches long and may weigh as much as 20 pounds. It is commonly used in the tropics for breakfast, for dessert and for salads.

GLAD ARMY-NAVY GAME IS IN MIDDLE WEST

BUT WAIT TILL RUSH IS ON FOR TICKETS

WILL FIND, LIKE EAST, THAT IT'S LARGELY A PRIVATE GAME

STREET PARADE IS ALL THAT MANY PEOPLE WILL BE ABLE TO SEE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, Jan. 23. — Football fans in the middle west who never have seen an Army-Navy football game no doubt will be overjoyed that the 1926 battle is to be played in Chicago, but wait—

Just wait until they try to get tickets!

Even with a promised seating capacity of 100,000 they will find, like the east that it is largely a private game and the street parade of the cadets and the midshipmen will be as much of the ceremonies as thousands will be able to see.

The game was sent away from the eastern seaboard for the first time, it was announced, to give an official flavor to the ceremonies that will dedicate Chicago's new stadium to her war dead and the nature of the occasion will add to the demand for tickets.

The Army and the Navy, it was promised when the arrangements were being made, will get 40,000 tickets each and out of their 20,000 the civilian committee handling the game will have to take care of city and state officials, politicians and everyone who put his name on the petition that helped get the game.

New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore are annual bidders for the game not for the entertainment of the lay population but for the trade that it brings to the business men.

Fans in the east have become reconciled to the fact that the Big Three games and the Army-Navy games are private family affairs but the western fans are of sturdier breed and they will not be so resigned when the sold out announcement is made.

For Brainerd, Boyd made two baskets, Gabiou 1, Swanson 1, and Gile 1, and Boyd and Gabiou each contributed a free throw. The line-up included Boyd and Gabiou forwards, Swanson center, and Gile and Greener guards. Lorenz went in for Boyd after the latter received a bad cut on his hand.

Beggs and Reuter played best for the girls. Beggs scored eight field baskets. The line-up included Beggs and Michael forwards, Reuter and Storm guards, and Early and Trask center. DeCausemaker and Alzant also played part of the game.

PROFESSIONAL FOOTBALL NEEDS REFORMS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Jan. 23.—All the legislators, the purists and the theologians of college football admit that they know of no means of taking the life of the devil that they see in professional football.

Every moral and physical means has been considered and everything discussed and debated but the one practical solution.

"Let it alone" would be the wisest and the sanest course.

If professional football is the game that its promoters want the public to believe, it will last and it cannot be stopped.

If it is the demon of darkness that the college guardian angels insist it is, it will die a natural death.

In consideration of recent developments it would seem that the purists should apply for ringside seats and watch the "demon" die.

At the close of the first season in which the pro game attained any national prominence, the franchise of one National league team was revoked for an alleged violation of territorial rights; one manager was barred from the league for life and two other clubs were fined for violating the rules.

To overcome the objection that a professional league would disrupt the college game, the league officials announced that it would stick to its own field and that a solemn agreement had been reached that no college players would be tampered with until they ceased to be college players.

Yet, Red Grange, before he decided to leave the University of Illinois, was swamped with offers from league promoters. He was signed to a professional contract even before he played his last game with Illinois.

Then another team invaded the high school ranks and recruited a number of boys who were discovered in the ranks of the pros and were disqualified for life as amateurs.

This may or may not have a serious effect upon the future of those high school boys. If they were good enough to play on a professional team they certainly would have had a chance to play on a college team and it has been known that football players have been able to get a college education on their football.

The officials of the professional league have not lived up to their pledge and they have put a nasty taste in the mouth of a public that was just getting an appetite for the professional game.

Owners of the New York franchise have promised to fight for numerous reforms at the winter meeting of the league but it will take some time to convince the public that money grabbing promoters who fell down on one promise will keep a second and harder one.

DULUTH ARRIVES ALL PRIMED FOR RAINBOWS GAME

TIP-OFF SCHEDULED AT 8:30 O'-

ED AMONG BEST IN NORTHWEST

The Duluth Independents arrived this afternoon on the Duluth and Brainerd bus, all primed for their game tonight with the Brainerd Rainbows, which will take place at 8:30 o'clock.

The visitors are counted among the best in the northwest, and fans attending the game are sure of a fast and thrilling contest. From the advance sale of tickets, a large crowd seems to be ready to watch the fray.

The starting line-up for the Rainbows will be Larson and Bollens at forward, Ziebell at center, and Orth and Dieckhaus at guard. In reserve will be Day, Hanson, Hagberg and Heikkinen.

Lawrence Ericsson will referee the game, and a snappy brand of playing is a foregone conclusion.

The Senators and Pirates will start their game at 7:45, with the Duluth-Rainbows feature tip-off being scheduled for 8:30.

DULUTH LEGION FIVE TO PLAY BRAINERD QUINT

(Duluth News Tribune, Jan. 22)

The strong American Legion basketball team of Duluth will leave today for Brainerd, Minn., when they meet the much-touted Rainbows quint of that town in what promises to be a great contest.

Manager H. W. Beatty of the Duluth Legion quint is planning on using his same line-up, strengthened by Johnny Benda, former Cathedral high school guard, who is rated one of the best basketball players in the North country. Three members of the quint played with the Y. M. C. A. five which won the state championship last year.

Games have been scheduled with Aitkin, Feb. 4; Biwabik, Feb. 12; Cloquet American Legion, Feb. 17; Manager Beatty says. He is planning on taking his team for a barnstorming tour through Southern Minnesota and the Dakotas.

The Brainerd Dispatch bowling team, consisting of Cossette, Broman, Swanson, J. Imgrund and Demmers, motored to Wadena last evening to engage the Buick Six aggregation of that city in a match game. These are trying days for the store that is trying to convince an unbelieving public.

Within the next year or two it wouldn't surprise us to see this city entirely devoid of January and July Clothing Sales.

The idea of the Sale is to act as a tonic for business—but it has failed to revive the patient as you will see by looking at the crowds of emptiness that surround the sale store's aisles.

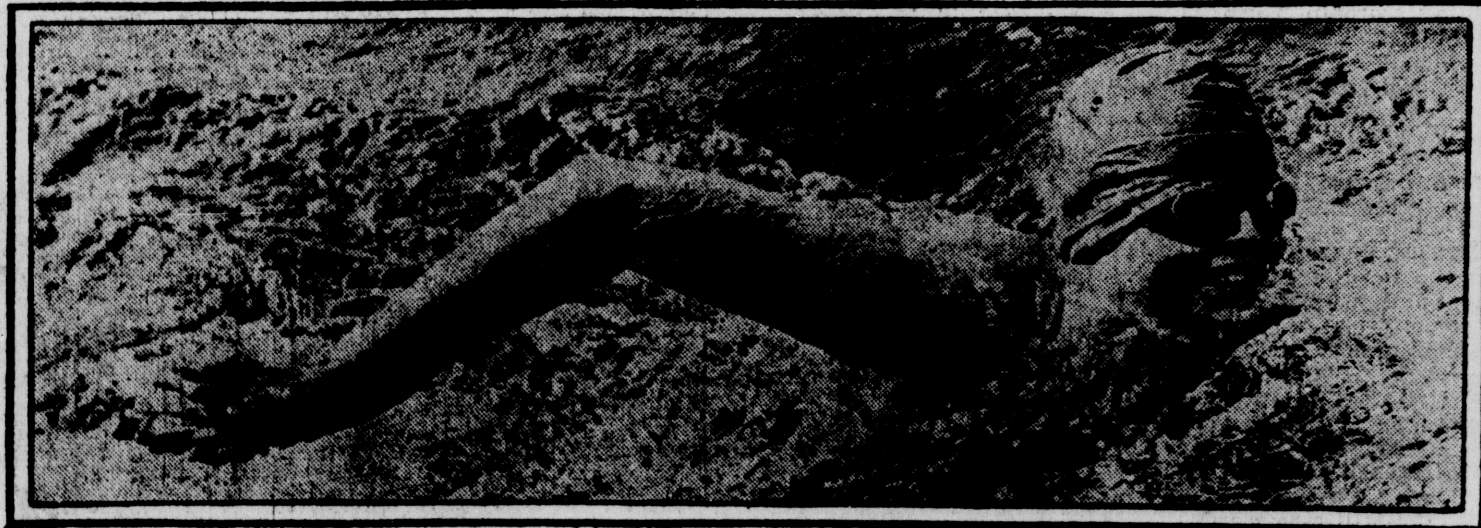

Business can only be stimulated by strong, steady values. A jerky pull on the rope never won a tug of war—and when it is a known fact that a clothing sale now means higher prices and profits in season—the people who used to flock to the sale are smelling a mouse and staying out of the trap.

Just a Brave Girl Swimming the English Channel

OUT among the choppy waves and treacherous currents of the English Channel, this girl not long ago pluckily fought her way while all the world watched and waited.

A UNITED PRESS reporter on the French side watched her dive smoothly into the rough sea.

A UNITED PRESS reporter waited in England for her arrival. A UNITED PRESS reporter sailed on the tug which followed her on her way. A UNITED PRESS reporter in a power-boat circled about her as she swam.

THE transatlantic cables carried the UNITED PRESS story to New York. In America, hundreds of telegraph operators using 85,000 miles of leased wires sent or received the news in hundreds of newspaper offices so that 12,000,000 readers might read.

BACK of the line "BY UNITED PRESS" there is the enterprise and vast expenditure of one of the greatest news-gathering organizations in the world today.

REMEMBER the word "UNITED" and look for it when you read your newspaper. It is just as much a trade-mark as the symbols on the food you buy, the motor car you drive, the clothes you wear.

"BY UNITED PRESS" is the sign of a superior newspaper because it designates dispatches which are accurate, reliable, authoritative and which are actually "the latest news"—transmitted to this newspaper with microscopic speed.

Crosby Campaign Conducted by Rev. H. H. Ness of Full Gospel Assembly

Evangelist Henry H. Ness and his brother, Maurice H. Ness, have just completed a successful evangelistic campaign at Crosby. The meetings being held in the Croatian hall there. The hall was filled with listeners, and a number of conversions were secured.

On the first Sunday of the meetings, a Sunday school was organized with 58 children and 19 adults. A Young People's Gospel band was formed along the principles of the General Council of the Assemblies of God. This band will meet twice a week under the direction of Francis Chase.

A regular assembly will be established in the near future, a committee of four having been appointed by Rev. Ness to find suitable meeting place for the assembly and the other organizations.

Rev. Ness is the pastor of the Full Gospel Assembly at 1/2 A street, N. E., Brainerd. His brother will remain with him to assist in the regular meetings on Wednesday, Friday and Sunday. The work at the local assembly has progressed well, and Rev. Ness is making plans for special meetings to be held soon.

KENNETH HYATT DIED

Seven Months Old Child of Nelson Hyatt Passed Away Yesterday

Kenneth Hyatt, infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Hyatt, of West Brainerd, passed away yesterday at the home of the parents. Kenneth was born June 27, 1925, and was about seven months old at the time of his death. Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed.

His wife and children clung tearfully to him as he tried to comfort them. "Fear not," he said, "I'll return." But in his heart he knew the dangers that awaited him.

"I'll call you up at noon," he said, tearing himself away, "and let you know if I'm alive."

The door slammed. The wife stood tragically alone in the hallway. The jeweler had gone to his day's work—life.

He was a splendid figure as he stood there in the hallway, his rifle slung over his shoulder, his automatic strapped tightly around his waist, and his bag of hand grenades in his hand.

Forest Turned to Stone

The most marvelous petrified forest known to man has been found by two geologists in a remote valley of the Big Bend region nearly 100 miles from the nearest railroad at Marathon, Texas. Petrified tree trunks of 100 to 150 feet were found standing, and others of a size, diameter and length unparalleled in the world, that had fallen. One of these was 800 feet long. The valley in which this stone forest was found is split by a deep canyon. Its surface is covered by a thick layer of volcanic ashes which evidently came from a long extinct peak in the neighboring Chisos mountains, but long after the forest had passed into its petrified state. We haven't yet learned all there is to know about the land in which we live. —Capper's Weekly.

Ready Money---When It's Time to Pay

Taxes and Insurance Premiums must be paid regularly, but paying them with current funds is often difficult if not impossible.

A better way is to accumulate tax and insurance money in a Savings Account at the Citizens State Bank with deposits made throughout the year.

STOCKS SHOW STRONG TONE

New York, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Traders working for lower prices suffered a decided setback in the week-end session. Stocks generally displayed a strong tone and good sized recoveries from the recent lows took place among the leaders.

Probably the strongest factor in this rallying tendency was short covering by operators who had been hammering the market earlier in the week. But there were also significant indications of fresh buying in anticipation of constructive developments.

These were particularly noticed in United States Steel common, whose steady recovery gave rise to greater hopes about the outcome of Tuesday's dividend meeting at which consideration is expected to be given to the matter of increasing the 50 cents quarterly extra payment.

The market closed higher.

LOCALS DROP THIRD CONFERENCE GAME IN A ROW TO FAST STAPLES QUINT

MARSHALL COUNTS FOUR GOALS IN LAST HALF, OF LIST-LESS CONTEST

The Brainerd high school team lost a listless game to Staples last night at that city, the score being 24-19. The half ended 15-5 in Staples favor. Brainerd showing greater signs of activity during the second half.

Brainerd was slow on offense, and Staples was good on defense. Bryson and Marlin were the stars for Staples, while Marshall did the best work for Brainerd. Staples has three letter men from last year in their line-up, Bryson, Marlin, and Black.

Marshall, fair-haired forward for the Brainerd quint, played his usual good game, especially during the last half, when he dropped in four counters from near the middle of the floor.

Avery and Marshall at forward, Orth at center, and Tribur and Lawrenz at guard, were the Brainerd players, with Eckholm and Putz going in as substitutes for Orth and Lawrenz respectively. For Staples, Allen and Bryson played forward, Marlin center, and Black and Johnson guards, with no substitutions.

Thrill on Thrill in Fairbanks Picture

If you were a young man and had been sent to Spain to complete your education; if you got into a sword fight to which the queen was a witness without your knowing it; if instead of killing your adversary, you saved his life when a wild bull suddenly charged into the scene, wouldn't you be somewhat perturbed if you were summoned before the queen and complimented for your action? Probably you would. Don Caesar, hero of Douglas Fairbanks' new film story, "Don Q. Son of Zorro," now at the Park theatre certainly was a bit exercised at so unusual a flood of events.

Ben Lyon And Mary Astor in Racing Story, "The Pace That Thrills"

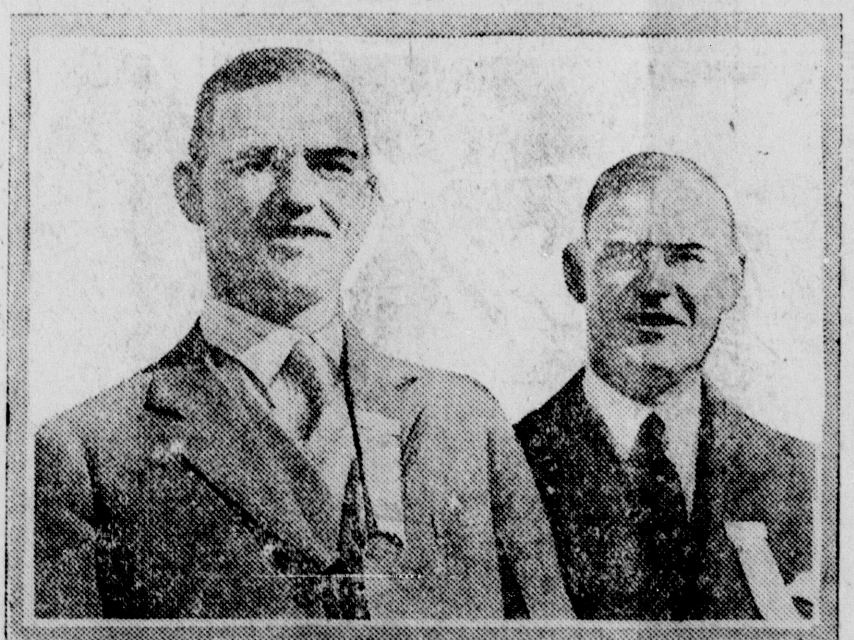

An exciting automobile race, with a bull fight, a prize fight or two and a goodly share of laughs thrown in for good measure are the chief components of "The Pace That Thrills"—a pulse-quickening and laugh-evoking First National picture which is showing at the Lyceum tonight only.

Cleaning Leather

A handbox or satchel of undressed kid, when soiled by usage, may be easily cleaned. The secret of restoration is a piece of sandpaper rubbed over the surface. A very fine grade of sandpaper is required. When this is used with care the effect is magical, and there is no injury to the material. Many kinds of leathers without polished surfaces—for example, suede, undressed and oiled calfskins—may be cleaned in the same way.
